

Privacy Policy

A Dash of Southern Grit strongly believes in keeping all of your personal information confidential. The following information describes what we collect and how it is used on our website.

Information Collected

A Dash of Southern Grit collects as little information from users as possible from website users looking to post comments and messages in the forum and comment section of the blog. We typically only collect a name and an email address.

With Whom Information is Shared

None of your information will be shared with third parties. Your email address and privacy will always be secure.

Opting Out

If you decide you don't want to be subscribed for email updates regarding new blogs, web pages, and more, simply scroll to the bottom of the email and click unsubscribe.

Thank you!
